Is Voicemail Sending Potential Clients to Your Competitors? ▶ Many legal professionals still use voicemail, answering machines, and automation to manage their calls when they are unavailable. If you are among them, the profitability of your practice may be lagging simply because your callers are not greeted by a friendly, knowledgeable, helpful voice.

Additionally, clients don't always abide by your schedule. And when they call after hours, they often need immediate assistance. Waiting hours or days for a return call may not be an option and could result in losing clients or prospects. That's where our answering service and call center can help.

- ▶ Our operators understand the need for professional call screening to properly assess the importance of calls and proceed according to your pre-established guidelines.
- ▶ We provide live operators 24/7/365 so your clients will never reach a recorded message.
- ▶ For just a fraction of the cost of hiring additional employees, our operators will act as your personal secretaries, projecting a professional image to your clients and prospects.

Premium Services Available ▶ We want to be your total call center solution, tailoring our services to meet your individual needs. We offer both nationwide and "follow-you anywhere" call routing services. No long-term contract commitment is required, so it's easy to experience firsthand the many benefits of custom answering services.
